

There's something she hasn't told you.

Why not?

- She doesn't want to embarrass you.
- She doesn't want to insult you.
- She doesn't want to hurt your feelings.
- She doesn't want to sound cheap or shallow.

What could it be?

Multiple studies have shown that women wish their man have a bigger penis.

- She wants to see it up close.
- She wants to hold it in her hand.
- She wants to feel it inside.

Let's Face the Facts:

Physical appearance matters to both men and women.

For example, most men like bigger breasts, a bigger butt, or wider hips.

So, let's not demonize her because she wants you to have a bigger penis.

After all, since she wants more of it, you know that she likes it.

She loves you, she appreciates you, and she would enjoy sex with you more if only you have a bigger penis.

Time to Man Up!

What's in these VigRX Plus pills?

- Damiana
- Epimedium Leaf Extract
- Asian Red Ginseng
- Muira Pauma Bark Extract
- Hawthorn Berry
- Catuaba Bark Extract
- Saw Palmetto
- Ginkgo Biloba
- Bioperine

Damiana comes from many subtropical climates, such as, Texas, Mexico, Central and South America.

Damiana is not a new herb, it has been used for hundreds of years as a aphrodisiac because of its efficient positive effect on oxygen and blood flow.

Epimedium Leaf Extract comes from a well known plant from the botanical family, Berberidaceae. It's also sometimes called 'horny goat weed' because that's part of the effect it has. Epimedium contains flavonoids that have antioxidant properties and the overall effect is increasing the production of testosterone.

Asian Red Ginseng was first recorded as an aphrodisiac about 5,000 years ago by the Emperor of China. Ginseng has been used for general overall health and to reduce stress and disease. Asian Ginseng has been used for erectile dysfunction for hundreds of years.

Muir Pauma Bark Extract is also known as the 'erection root' and has been used by tribes in Brazil for thousands of years for its aphrodisiac qualities. In a 1994 study, 62% of the 262 men reported a major affect on their libido and sexual desire.

Hawthorn Berry has strong properties that will improve your sexual health including your cardiovascular health and lowering cholesterol levels. Hawthorn Berry also supports the heart muscle itself because of the antioxidants and bioflavonoids contained in every berry.

Catuaba Bark Extract is another herb from South America. Catuaba naturally grows in Brazil and Peru. The men there regularly use it in order to increase their sexual desire. Catauaba contains alkaloids that are effective in the nervous system in order to enhance sexual functions.

Saw Palmetto comes from a palm plant that is native to North America. Saw Palmetto affects the testosterone levels and people all around the world have used it for years as a treatment for sexual problems.

Ginkgo Biloba is a well known ancient Chinese herb that has strong antioxidant properties. Ginkgo Biloba enhances the nerve functions and increases blood flow to the brain and entire nervous system which increases the quality of erections.

Bioperine surprisingly, this ingredient is actually an extract of the black pepper fruit. Bioperine is known to have a dramatic positive affect on how your body absorbs and utilizes other herbs.
